

"Call Congress To Say You Oppose Any More Bailouts"

Hi,

I'm calling from (your city) to urge (your congressman) to oppose the next bailout or stimulus. I understand that no legislation is currently being considered. However, given the situation we're facing right now with the current bailouts and the stimulus, which aren't working, I want to be on the record in opposition to this.

As of August 2009, Congress and the Federal Reserve had already committed and spent more than $15 trillion on the bailout, which is more than the entire gross domestic product. It could have paid off every consumer loan in the United States with money to spare. How we'll repay that money is a mystery, let alone how we'll service the debt.

Aside from the obvious, the bailout and stimulus spending spree was an overtly unconstitutional misadventure.

I hope (your congressman) can recognize the current deficits as what they are. I strongly urge you to inform (your congressman) that we can't repeat the same, costly mistakes.
